

Bio

I'm a self-taught, mixed media artist and I've been making sculptures for a little over 2 years.

Each series of sculptures I create is with the intention of inspiring compassion towards a specific issue and is meant to examine sociological attitude towards a topic.

Gaining an emotional response from the viewer towards the sculpture, and ,by extension, the issue it represents; is the predominant focus of my work.